FARMERS MEET AT LOUISA ON AUGUST 14, 15, 16

Lawrence county farmers should keep in mind the tent meeting to be held in Louisa from Thursday night, August 14, to Saturday night, the 16th. Sessions will be held afternoons of Friday and Saturday, and on the three nights.

The list of speakers has not yet been received from Louisville, but we hope to have it in time for our next issue. It is safe to say, however, that the speakers will be worth coming miles to hear.

This will be a very beneficial meeting for all who will attend. There will be moving pictures at night that are sure to interest everybody who cares anything for farming.

Make your arrangements to attend.

8,000 AMERICAN TROOPS TO STAY ON RIVER RHINE

Coblenz.—The First division will begin entraining for Brest about August 18. This would leave a total of about 8,000 American troops in the Army of Occupation.

This force would be composed of the Eighth Infantry, with a company of engineers, a company of military police and a unit of artillery.

The Third Division will begin entraining for Brest August 5. It was said a week would be required to move the division to Brest.

A Washington dispatch announced that all of the First Division except the units to be retained in Germany would entrain August 15, but the strength of the force to be left on the Rhine was not given.

WEST VA. MAN FOR PRESIDENT

Charleston, W. Va.—West Virginia Democrats already have been assured of the support of some of the most prominent leaders of the party in three states for the boom which is to be launched within a few weeks, probably, at Clarksburg or Washington, in behalf of the candidacy of John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain, for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

This information was received from one of the most prominent of the Davis boosters in the state, who declared that the committee which is to launch the nation-wide publicity campaign would be organized at an early date. It will be made up of West Virginia Democrats, but at least three other states are expected to be represented.

The states in question are to be Maryland, Virginia and Kentucky. At least one of the leading Democrats of each of these states already has been consulted personally, and it is the belief of the Davis boosters in this state that when the boom actually is launched it will be with at least four states behind it actively.

The enthusiasm behind the movement in West Virginia has been gaining force rapidly in the last month, and all divisions of the party in West Virginia are said to favor it. Actuated by the belief that there is no other Democrat in the country who has a better chance of winning the nomination than Ambassador Davis, they are willing to overlook local animosities in lining up solidly behind his candidacy.

Although Governor John J. Cornwell has made no public statement on the subject it is understood that he is strongly in favor of Davis and will lend every possible encouragement to organizing for the nation-wide campaign.

It is predicted by Democrats who are taking part in the formulation of plans for organizing the committee that it will be well under way early in September, and possibly may come before that time.

In other words, West Virginia Democrats have already are in the air for John W. Davis, and their coats soon may follow their hats.

GIRL HELD CAPTIVE BY ARMY DESERTER IN MOUNTAIN HUT

Bluemont, W. Va.—Manderville Farley, alleged to be a deserter from the army, and the reputed leader of a band of outlaws, is in the mountains about twenty miles from here, near the Raleigh county line, holding in captivity a fourteen-year-old girl, defying the authorities to come after him, but with his chin shot off and a bullet through one of his shoulders inflicted by the girl's father who made an unsuccessful attempt, single-handed, to rescue his daughter and take Farley a prisoner, according to word received.

Farley and his gang are said to have been making the mountains of that section their rendezvous since the early part of the outbreak of the war. Farley and the girl, a Miss Abesheire, became sweethearts and the mountaineer persuaded the girl to elope with him, and is alleged to have taken her back into the mountains, where he has been holding her in captivity.

DR. STURGELL IS OF SOUND MIND

Louisville.—That Dr. George M. Sturgell, Ashland physician and former First Lieutenant in the base hospital, Camp Taylor, who is being tried by court martial for alleged theft of $163 worth of government property, is of sound mind, was the testimony of Major William H. Nails, member of the special medical board appointed to investigate the sanity of the accused.

DOINGS IN THE LOCAL OIL FIELD

The test well on Dr. C. B. Walter's farm on upper Blaine has been drilled deeper and a very encouraging showing of oil is found. A shot of 80 quarts of nitroglycerine will be exploded in the well on Friday of this week if the material can be delivered there by that time.

On the Morris farm a production that looks to be sufficient to pay was found at about 250 feet, but the well will be drilled deeper.

The Alton Oil and Gas company has drilled in a good gas well on the Phillips farm.

Considerable acreage on Catt has been leased by company that proposes to develop.

The W. Va. Oil, Gas & Distributing company has made a location near the line of M. F. Conley, Trustee. On the latter tract well No. 3 will start at once.

A shot was given the New Domain's well recently completed on Carl Bussey's farm, in the Busseyville field, on Wednesday afternoon. Thursday morning, it is reported oil was standing in the well at a depth of 40 feet. This indicates that this is the best well yet drilled in the Busseyville field. This is the well started by E. E. Franklin.

The Omar Oil & Gas Company is starting a well on the Land Bradley tract this week. Tom Hayes is drilling it.

The second well on the Lime Moore farm is being drilled.

SMALL POX ON TROOP SHIP: 138 WAR BRIDES ISOLATED

New York.—The first case of smallpox discovered on a returning troopship held up the transport Mobile from Brest on her arrival hero today, resulting in the quarantining of the nearly 5,000 officers and men on their arrival at Camp Mills and the segregation of 138 "war brides" under care of the Red Cross after they were landed at Hoboken.

A Filippino mess boy was found to have developed a mild case of the disease after the vessel left France, and he was quarantined with his three Filippino companions in the ship's hospital. Then all persons on board were vaccinated.

The Mobile brought the first of the Fourth division to return home, including the 93 officers and 3,151 men of the 47th Infantry, and 21 colonels and lieutenant-colonels and 25 enlisted men of the third army corps headquarters detachment.

The Fourth division, nicknamed by its members the "Forgotten Fourth" because of its lack of publicity, fought in the Aisne, Marne, St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives, suffering 2,749 casualties of a total of 5,330 officers and men engaged in action. Of 165 officers originally, there were 103 casualties at the end of the war.

Gene, son of K. R. Bolt, of this place, and Linus Hewlett, son of Rev. H. B. Hewlett, are members of the Fourth Division.

FROM TEXAS.

Mrs. Ruth Hall Roberts, El Paso, Texas, has been visiting her cousin, Frank Powers. It has been thirty-three years since her last visit here. Mrs. Roberts is the widow of a Baptist minister. She was suddenly called away to meet a soldier son returning from France with a French bride.—Grayson Journal.

HUNTINGTON MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH BENEATH TRACTOR

A sad accident occurred near Buckanan Monday morning of this week when Charles Hatch, 24, of Huntington, W. Va., was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a tractor which he was demonstrating.

A log rolled from the truck striking him and knocking him from his seat. His leg caught in one of the wheels, forcing his body under the tractor and his chest was so badly crushed that he died on the way to Catlettsburg, He was salesman for an automobile dealer in Huntington and left home at six o'clock that morning.

John Kirk, whom Hatch was teaching to operate the tractor, was unable to stop the machine when the peril of the situation became imminent. Jim Peterman, who was passing near the field where the accident occurred, ran to offer assistance and with frenzied exertion lifted the truck from the prostrate victim.

Kirk and Peterman stated that Hatch remained conscious for several minutes, and directed them to inform his relatives of the accident.

Mr. Hatch was a popular young man in Huntington. One day before enlisting in the Signal corps of the army he married Miss Goldie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Sixth avenue. This was early in December, 1917. The next day he left for Columbus Barracks, Ohio, where he was later transferred to Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill. Subsequently he was sent to Newport News, Va., in the aviation corps. He was discharged in April, and returned to Huntington, having served with honor in the time of national peril, and retained on home soil only because of invaluable work here as an instructor.

Beside the mother, Mrs. Irene Hatch, he leaves two sisters, Miss Jane and Miss Josephine Hatch, and one brother, James, who is now employed with a coal corporation and who formerly held a position as teller in the Huntington National Bank.

THE STURGELL TRIAL.

Louisville, Ky.—After fiery arguments by counsel for the accused and the trial Judge Advocate the case of Dr. George M. Sturgell, of Ashland, charged with theft of thousands of dollars' worth of drugs, linen and other Government property, was given over to the hands of the court, whose decision will not be made public until after the reviewing authority has examined the record.

In the final argument Charles Higgins, of Ashland, civilian counsel for Dr. Sturgell, declared that Maj. William Nails, witness for the Government, had testified to reading medical books which books never existed. Mr. Higgins said that he submitted bogus names to the witness. Mr. Higgins also said that two members of the board which tested Dr. Sturgell's sanity are not acquainted with insanity.

Lieut. R. M. Bridgforth, Sturgell's military counsel, said the prosecution failed utterly to prove larceny, but had only established that the physician had the goods in his possession.

Dr. Sturgell had nothing to say and did not take the stand.

The whole defense of the trial during its hearing last week was to prove the insanity of the accused. The prosecution offered in rebuttal the report of a board of medical officers who examined Dr. Sturgell and pronounced him sane.

Frank Uhles, of Kermit, W. Va., of the Insurance Bureau of the Modern Woodmen in that place, was the first witness. He testified that Dr. Sturgell had been employed by the insurance bureau as medical examiner, but that he had been released two years ago because of incompetency. He added that Sturgell had been his personal physician, but that during the past three years he had been afraid to take the goods in his possession.

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Louisia people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Frank Pigg of Water St., Louisa, endorsed Doan's eight years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

I suffered for a long time with many distressing symptoms of kidney complaint," says Mrs. Pigg. "The most annoying ailment was a severe pain, in my back and a dull, bearing down feeling through my loins which at times was almost unbearable. I was weak and languid, constantly tired and had no ambition. My back was in such a bad condition I couldn't stoop over without severe pain and it was a terrible effort for me to rise. I was restless at night and couldn't sleep. Mornings I was just as tired as when I went to bed. I was nervous and suffered from severe dizzy spells. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I finally took Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Louisia Drug Co.'s store, and the pains about my back and loins left. The action of my kidneys became normal and the other distressing symptoms were removed."

Mrs. Pigg gave the above statement on March 29, 1910, and on December 4, 1915 she said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still lasting and I now enjoy the best of health."

BUY SEED EARLY.

Each year for the past several years there has been an acute shortage of clover seed in this country. One of the reasons for this is that we have been unable to import any seed; but the chief reason is that the production of clover seed has declined rapidly in the United States. This in turn is due to the fact that the acreage of clover grown in some of the chief seed producing states like Ohio, Indiana and Michigan is much smaller than formerly.

The farmer and his family can make these Jitney journeys pleasure trips and profitable trips at the same time. Plans can be made for a trip which will allow the family to visit some farm where the use of ground limestone has sweetened a field so that sweet clover or alfalfa will grow.

Another day a farmer who has made a success of feeding hogs may be seen.

The farmer's wife could use the machine to call upon some woman who has installed waterworks or an electric lightplant in the home. She might make a point of passing some homes where the planting of shrubbery or trees has made the farms especially attractive.

In other words now that a breathing spell has come we can use the car as a pleasure and an observation car at the same time. By taking these little Jitney journeys the car can be made to pay for its keep by educating the farmer and his family through seeing what other people on other farms happen to be doing.

This in turn is due to the fact that the acreage of clover grown in some of the chief seed producing states like Ohio, Indiana and Michigan is much smaller than formerly.

Clover seed at no time has been cheap, but an examination of market prices for the past few years shows that the fall price has been several dollars less in every case than the late winter and early spring prices.

Last year, for example, clover seed could be bought in the fall for about $18.00 per bushel. In the spring the price was $30.00 and good seed was difficult to get even at this price. There was simply not enough seed to go around.

That there will be a similar shortage next year is practically certain.

In fact some authorities predict the most serious shortage yet experienced. This opinion is borne out by the high price of seed for future delivery on the Toledo market. It is not at all unlikely that good clover seed will sell for $35.00 or $40.00 per bushel next year.

There is a good opportunity of saving many dollars and what is even more important getting the choicest seed the market affords, by buying as soon as possible the new crop of seed comes in the market. While the shortage of alfalfa seed has not been so marked as with clover, yet the supply of high-grade seed has not been large and since the quality of the seed is such an important point in growing alfalfa, no mistake can be made by buying early.

Nothing will pay the farmer so well as holding on to the fertility in his land. This valuable material can be washed away by the driving rains especially when freezes and thaws have loosened the soil.

As an oil field producing the high grades of valuable liquid Kentucky is rapidly taking a front position. Development has only fairly started. Let the good work go on.

Race riots in Chicago and Washington, in which more than 50 lives have been lost, prove again the fact that when the test comes the same feeling develops in the north as is charged up to the southerners. The people of the north have long condemned occurrences in the south such as they are now staging in their own communities. The closer view is what the north has needed to make them realize a very important and lamentable truth. Let us hope the northern press may see the error of their former position and cease to widen the breach.

REGULATION TO PREVENT INTERSTATE SHIPMENT OF TUBERCULAR CATTLE

It is impossible to tell the tubercular from the healthy cows by external appearance.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The regulation prohibiting, after July 1, 1919, the interstate movement of cattle for breeding or dairy purposes unless they are properly tuberculin-tested, will prove to be a long step toward the control of tuberculosis and its eventual eradication in this country, according to officials of the United States department of agriculture. It supplements and strengthens state regulations on this subject.

The object of the regulation is specifically to prevent the interstate shipment of diseased animals to cattle breeders or dairymen who are trying to drive out or keep tuberculosis from their herds. Cattle consigned to public stockyards, and steers and strictly range cattle may be moved interstate without restriction under the new regulation.

Copies of the regulation, which has been issued by the secretary of agriculture and is known as regulation seven of bureau of animal industry order 203, are being printed, and will be available soon for cattle owners, dealers, veterinarians and others who may desire them.

The regulation of interstate movement of cattle follows the same principle used successfully in the control of other animal diseases, and has been recommended to the department of agriculture by many cattle owners as an essential part of the campaign against tuberculosis, which is now getting well underway, and in which the federal government and 42 states are co-operating.

What Cattle May Be Moved.

Cattle known to be tubercular may be moved interstate for immediate slaughter under federal inspection. They must be marked for identification; must be accompanied by a certificate showing their condition, that they may be shipped interstate, and the purpose for which they are shipped; transportation companies must identify the cattle as tubercular.

MANURE IN CROP ROTATIONS

GIVE ALFALFA A GOOD START

Increased Yields Secured in Experiments at West Virginia and Ohio Experiment Stations.

The agricultural value of manure usually is greater than the plant-food value. For example, the application of 12½ tons of manure a year for 15 years at the West Virginia experiment station gave increased crop yields valued at $40 an acre a year, or $3.12 a ton for the manure used. During a period of ten years the Ohio experiment station has obtained an increase of crops valued at $4.60 a ton for the manure used. The application was made at the rate of eight tons of manure an acre during a five-year rotation of corn, wheat, oats, clover and timothy. Two applications of four tons each were made, one for corn and one for clover. Manure used in connection with continuous grain cropping did not maintain the yields, but when used in connection with crop rotation the yields of all crops were increased.

FLY REPELANT FOR CATTLE

North Dakota Station Recommends Mixture of Soap, Crude Oil, Naphthaline and Water.

The North Dakota experiment station recommends the following repellent for flies of all kinds: Dissolve one cake of laundry soap in four gallons of soft water, while boiling hot, and one gallon of crude oil, slowly, and stir vigorously for ten minutes, then add four ounces of naphthaline and shake or agitate for fifteen minutes. This repellent can be used most effectively in sprayer or it may be put on animals with a moist new cloth, care being taken not to rub the skin. It should be applied to the hair only.

FRESH WATER FOR CHICKENS

One of Most Important Factors in Keeping Young Fowls Growing—Keep Supply Clean.

One of the most important factors in keeping young chicks growing is good, clean, fresh water in vessels. As the days get warmer care should be taken to change the water as often as required to keep it clean and fresh.

ENORMOUS LOSS IN THRESHING

Million Bushels of Grain Lost Each Year Because of Inefficient Methods.

KEEP MACHINES IN REPAIR

Separators Out of Adjustment Are Cause of Greatest Trouble—Thresherman Should Study Manufacturer's Instructions.

Every important grain state has been losing over one million bushels of grain each year because of inefficient threshing methods, declare investigators of the United States department of agriculture. The government, by bringing this enormous loss to the attention of farmers and threshermen and showing them how to avoid it, saved 22,000,000 bushels of grain in the 21 states in which the educational work was carried on last year.

When an average of eight bushels of grain is lost on every farm in the United States at threshing time every year, that loss begins to have a personal meaning. With wheat worth $2.20, it is well worth while to prevent that loss, if possible. And it is entirely possible. The chief source of loss is the inefficient operation of threshing machines.

Any standard threshing machine will do satisfactory work if kept in repair and operated intelligently. If the operator knows his machine, and sees that it is properly adjusted and operated, grain will come through clean and losses will be small. The farmer should know enough about the general operation of a threshing machine to detect poor work, which means a direct loss to him.

Adjust Separator Carefully.

To do good work the separator must be set level, both crosswise and lengthwise, and then carefully adjusted to the particular job at hand. The greater part of the separation is done in the cylinder and immediately after the grain passes over it. If cracked grains are frequent there may be too much

Large pile shows grain wasted while threshing 2½ bushels—8 pints in this instance. Small pile shows grain wasted after adjustments had been made to machine—less than 1 pint. The unnecessary loss of 7 pints occurred every two minutes the separator was in operation. This means that 4½ per cent of the grain was lost.

end play of the cylinder, the speed may be too high, or the concaves may be set too high. The teeth may be crooked or too high and not centered. Too rapid speed will crack grain. Dry grain demands a lower speed of the cylinder.

Unthreshed heads are often found in the tailings. This results from missing or broken teeth, or teeth too far apart, not centered, or badly worn; concave set too low, or concave with not enough teeth. The speed of the cylinder also causes many unthreshed heads. Damp, unripe or moldy grain requires more than normal speed of the cylinder to thresh it out well.

OPERATOR SHOULD KNOW MACHINE.

Grain is lost through the improper adjustment of other parts of the separator as well as the cylinder, so it is evident that the operator must be thoroughly familiar with the entire machine.

It may not be possible to save all the grain now lost, but the careless operator who does not know how to adjust the different parts of his machine will waste a great amount unnecessarily. He will surely have to make frequent stops for adjustment. Every time a machine stops the whole crew must be idle until it starts again—a loss of time to everybody concerned.

Manufacturers furnish instruction books on the care and operation of their threshing machine. They have spent years in experimenting, and they know how their machines should be run to secure the most satisfactory results.

A great deal of the trouble experienced by the thresherman is due to his disregard of or even neglect to read the manufacturers' instructions. There are other ways in which grain can be saved, but the proper operation of the separator is the most important. Efficient operation of the threshing machine should interest both threshermen and farmers.

CHECK TOMATO LEAF BLIGHT BY SPRAYING

As Many as Seven Applications Made in West Virginia.

Color and Solidity of Fruit Was Improved and 39 Per Cent Increase in Yield Secured—Bordeaux Soap Mixture Used.

"I wouldn't grow tomatoes in a blight infested region without spraying," says S. L. Dodd, Jr., extension pathologist for the United States department of agriculture and West Virginia agricultural experiment station, who sprayed tomatoes for the control of blight in six counties of West Virginia in 1918. Thorough spraying was the keynote of his success. He made six, and in some fields seven applications, using spray mixture at the rate of 150 gallons an acre for mature plants. Spraying improved color and solidity of fruit, reduced rot and sunscald, and increased the yield of ripe fruit 39 per cent, and of both green and ripe fruit 55 per cent.

A small knapsack compressed-air sprayer was used in this work. Such sprayers are light, easy to operate, and produce a fine misty spray. Several different kinds, varying somewhat in shape and construction, but built on the compressed-air principle, are now offered for sale.

The spray formula used was 5-5-50 Bordeau soap mixture, composed of five pounds of copper sulphate, five pounds stone lime, three pounds resin fish oil soap, and fifty gallons of water.

To reduce the work of preparing spray mixtures the following stock solutions were made: Five pounds of copper sulphate (blue stone) was dissolved by suspending it in a wooden vessel containing five gallons of water. Copper sulphate corrodes iron and tin. Five pounds of stone lime (quickslime) was slaked in another vessel by slowly adding water at first and later increasing the volume to five gallons. Three pounds of resin fish oil soap was diluted in a third vessel by stirring it in hot water until thin and increasing the volume to five gallons by adding water of ordinary temperature.

These stock solutions keep indefinitely if not mixed or weakened by rain, but the lime should be covered to prevent drying out and air-slaking. The level of the liquid when freshly made and after each spray period should be marked on each vessel, and water added when needed to restore loss by evaporation.

Ten gallons of spray mixture are prepared by taking one gallon of each freshly stirred stock solution and increasing it to three and one-third gallons by adding water, and by pouring together and stirring the three diluted solutions thus made. The resulting mixture is ready for use as soon as strained and should be used while fresh, as it deteriorates by standing.

CARE OF HORSES' SHOULDERS

Prevent Accumulation of Dirt and Dandruff on Collars, Especially If Soreness Develops.

Do not use sweat pads. Keep collars clean of dandruff and dirt, especially if soreness develops. Sponge the shoulders of work horses with cold water at night after work. If they are sweaty at noon, sponge at noon also. Care should be taken in fitting collars on work horses. Many collars are too big or too loose. If the withers are fat or especially full, the fitting of collars will need extra care.—Ohio State University.

GAPES IN LITTLE CHICKENS

Disease Kills More Young Fowls Than Any Other Ailment—Discourages Poultry Keeping.

Probably more little chickens are killed by gapes than by any other one disease. On nearly every farm at least a few chickens die every spring of this trouble, and on many farms the loss is so great as to discourage the keeping of poultry.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when only a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless. Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel, your money is waiting for you.

Answer Your Telephone Promptly

One habit that will do much to help improve the quality of your telephone service is the habit of answering your telephone promptly.

Promptness in answering is a courtesy that your telephone caller appreciates—delay may cause him to abandon the call.

In one large city records show that on nearly seven out of every 100 telephone calls there is a delay of more than a minute before the called party answers. This occurs thousands of times daily, and in one-fourth of the cases the party calling does not wait.

To help yourself and others to receive a better quality of telephone service, why not make it an invariable rule to answer your telephone promptly?
